'SHOW ME YOUR TONGUE.'

This is Always the First Thing the Doctor Says.

Just Why he Does It—The Latest Utterance of Modern Science on the Twin Question of Digestion and Disease.

Why does the doctor look at your tongue?

Because the condition and color of the tongue is one of the indications of the state of the stomach.

Because ninety-nine out of one hundred complaints are simply results (and therefore symptoms) of a disordered digestion. Before treating you the doctor must know what the stomach has to say.

Part of that tale the tongue tells him, but not all.

There are plenty of other signs which you may recognize for yourself. You only need to know what they mean.

A sense of weight and pain in the stomach, chest and back after eating; headache and sleepiness; a yellowish color in the eyes and skin; spells of dizziness; head hot and extremities cold; bad taste in the mouth and foul breath; weariness and languor; the gulping up of wind or gas; unnatural irritability and fretfulness; dry skin; loss of or variable appetite; bad dreams and broken sleep; constipation and irregularity of the bowels; flushes of heat and cold; aching of the back and limbs, etc.

The remedy is not drugs but diet; the new pre-digested starch food called Paskola.

Being pre-digested, Paskola nourishes the body, feeds it, strengthens it, sustains it, while the stomach rests and gets well.

Paskola does not sicken and tear you to pieces as cathartics do; nor stimulate you for an hour as "ionics" do.

It is a food containing the nutrient principles of other foods condensed, pre-digested, immediately assimilable, pleasant as lemonade.

Being a pre-digested food (exactly what was needed) it solves the problem and leaves nature to repair her own machinery.

Just see what Paskola has done for others:

WESTON, N. J., March 6, 1894.
The Pre-Digested Food Company, 30 Reade Street, New York.

GENTLEMEN: I have commenced upon my third bottle of Paskola to-day. Permit me to say that it is simply wonderful. Not only are its effects at once realized when suffering from dyspepsia, indigestion, faint stomach and similar affections, but upon the general system it puts new life immediately without having to wait a week or two to realize a slight improvement in one's self.

I have been treated by three very good physicians and one specialist in New York city for dyspepsia and general debility and have never experienced in their costly treatment the change that I am now undergoing.

Accept this as my heartfelt acknowledgment and truthful estimation of the greatest discovery of this enlightened age. Sincerely and respectfully,
MRS. R. P. CARY.

WEVERTOWN, N. Y., May 7, 1894.
The Pre-Digested Food Company, 30 Reade Street, New York.

GENTLEMEN—I feel it my duty to write and tell the public what Paskola has done for me. Three years ago I was taken sick. I tried all kinds of medicine, which did me no good, when at last I called a physician, who told me that I had dyspepsia in its worst form and there was no hope for me.

At last I thought I would try Paskola, and have taken two 50 cent bottles. I can say I am a great deal better. My stomach will bear food now. When I commenced taking Paskola I could eat only one tablespoonful of meal made in a gruel; now I can eat almost anything I want, and I thank God I have found a cure at last.

Yours truly,
MRS. EMILINE MORGAN.

Paskola may be obtained of any reputable druggist. A pamphlet on food and digestion will be mailed free on application to the Pre-Digested Food Company, 30 Reade Street, New York.
